Exhibiting this month on the library art wall are 7 watercolor portraits by local Artist and Instructor Sherry Liscio

The train display is presented by the Buhl Model Train Society. It doesn't depict any particular area or time but that's part of the fun. Model railroading, like any other art form, is up to the creator and can be as realistic or fanciful as you want it to be. Many enjoy modelling a specific location and time period, typically somewhere they grew up or feel a strong connection to. Others like myself like to build what we think is interesting or just push the edges of reality. Neither is wrong or better and that's what I love about the hobby.

If you'd like to get involved in model railroading (or even just creating scenes) feel free to come to our monthly meetings, or you can contact the club or, if interested in N-scale particularly, my shop page both of which are on Facebook. Flyers and business cards are available on the layout.

The Buhl Model Train Society is hosting our 14th annual show in the Buhl Club gym Dec 11-12 from 1pm-5pm. Entry as always is free.

New in Juvenile Graphic Novel

Yorick is a skeleton who was just dug up after a few hundred years of sleep. He speaks like it too.

“Forsooth, my joy, I barely can contain!”

Bones is the hungry dog who did the digging. Though he cannot speak, he can chomp.

What will become of these two unlikely companions? Will Yorick ever find the friend he seeks? Will Bones ever find a tasty treat that does not talk back?

Aware of the racial tumult in the years after the passage of the Chinese Exclusion Act, Mei tries to remain blissfully focused on her job, her close friendship with the camp foreman's daughter, and telling stories about Paul Bunyan--reinvented as Po Pan Yin (Auntie Po), an elderly Chinese matriarch.

Anchoring herself with stories of Auntie Po, Mei navigates the difficulty and politics of lumber camp work and her growing romantic feelings for her friend Bee. The Legend of Auntie Po is about who gets to own a myth, and about immigrant families and communities holding on to rituals and traditions while staking out their own place in America.

On the New Shelf

Deep in the shadows under the Paris Opera House resides Erik the Phantom, mysteriously enduring through the decades as the mastermind behind a strange and secret agency. A revolving door of female agents are charged by wealthy Parisians and the French Government to investigate crimes and misdemeanors they would prefer to keep out of the public eye.

The toxic underbelly of Paris is exposed by Erik's tenacious women operatives as they confront horror and corruption throughout the city. But it is one dreadful murder during the 1910 Great Flood of Paris that brings Irene Adler, Kate Reed and others together for a final, deadly confrontation.

Boston, 1662. Mary Deerfield is twenty-four-years-old. Her skin is porcelain, her eyes delft blue, and in England she might have had many suitors. But here in the New World, amid this community of saints, Mary is the second wife of Thomas Deerfield, a man as cruel as he is powerful. When Thomas, prone to drunken rage, drives a three-tined fork into the back of Mary's hand, she resolves that she must divorce him to save her life.

But in a world where every neighbor is watching for signs of the devil, a woman like Mary—a woman who harbors secret desires and finds it difficult to tolerate the brazen hypocrisy of so many men in the colony—soon becomes herself the object of suspicion and rumor. When tainted objects are discovered buried in Mary's garden, when a boy she has treated with herbs and simples dies, and when their servant girl runs screaming in fright from her home, Mary must fight to not only escape her marriage, but also the gallows.
